Report on the process of mapping public sector information sources for DIGIWHIST[1]

1. Public Sector data collection: Goals

The DIGIWHIST project envisions the original compilation of public sector organizational information as part of its tasks delineated in its Description of Work (DoW). More precisely, Deliverable 2.3 describes the Data Template for all of the different datasets to be collected by DIGIWHIST. This data template is a list of desired or expected dimensions (aka. "attributes", "variables") to be observed and stored for each entity (aka "observation", "case", "subject") in each database. For public sector / public organization data, the DoW states that:

> "Another useful addition to the public procurement database is treasury data on each issuer of tenders. Information is to be collected on:
> - Financial data: total spending, investment spending, total wage bill, average wages, loans, own income; and
> - Administrative information: location, supervisory body, legal standing, elected or appointed top managers as well as country-level asset declaration data.
> In order to monitor the implementation of asset and financial declaration legislation at the country-level, data on actual declarations has to be collected. From the official asset declaration sources, the following meta-data is to be collected:
>
> - Number of original and modified asset and financial declarations by public position;
> - Type of access to asset declarations: upon request or readily available; and
> - Format of publication: non-machine readable (e.g. hand written scanned) or machine readable, but free text format, or machine readable structured format (e.g. excel sheet)".

Deliverable 2.4 describes the raw databases to be compiled. Regarding public sector data it states that:

> "AKKI (P3) will be responsible for collecting public organisation data while also building on the existing networks of consortium partners. National treasuries or ministries of finance have such detailed records which provide the basis for national budget figures. The team already disposes of such data for Hungary in full and partially for Czech Republic and Slovakia. AKKI (P3) will migrate its existing Hungarian data to UCAM-CL (P1.2) servers. Initial screening of the other countries suggests feasibility as some countries such as the UK have this kind of data available online. But in many cases the data would have to be acquired directly from public data holders, hence success depends on the willingness of public organizations to share their detailed budget data."

In brief, the goal of public sector data collection is to facilitate the cross-linking of information between public tenders at the contract level and potentially relevant background information on the contracting authorities.

2. Strategy

The mapping of public sector data has been done in order to identify and track the location of the relevant information promised in the DoW.

In this vein, we have mapped data on three sets of items regarding contracting authorities:

- Comprehensive registries of contracting authorities for each jurisdiction.

These organizational units generally include central administration bodies (such as ministries, departments and depending units); autonomous agencies; regions, provinces or municipalities; state-owned enterprises and publicly-funded organizations. This list is not comprehensive, as it greatly depends on how the state is organized in each particular case. For each country, there are thousands of organizations (no less than 5,000 and up to 150,000, depending on the legal framework and the country size).

In a number of countries, registries exist as part of the official procurement website, as detailed in the country fiches below. For others, we have received such a list from the authorities, and for the remaining ones we have not located such lists, and we attempted to look for alternatives.

The data dimensions that can normally extracted from these registries vary greatly between countries, although the mere existence of such a list with basic organizational information such as address and postal code can be helpful in order to identify these units properly.

- Top public officials.

In order to increase accountability and precision, we also assess the availability of names of the top public officials in charge of each respective contracting authority. This is a challenging task, as for the overwhelming majority of countries the names of contracting authorities' heads are not directly available from public tender announcements. To undertake this task, we therefore need to look for the names of public officials in other sources and later attempt matching them to contracting authorities. In addition to the managers of contracting authorities, we include members of the national, regional, and municipal executive bodies as much as possible, together with national level legislators. For each official, we also try to locate data on the exact date of appointment / coming into office and dismissal.

It is noteworthy, that data on personal names of public officials is not to be published following the ethics recommendation from the European Commission. It can only be collected in order to produce relevant scientific and social content that securely anonymizes these data.

- Financial or budget information on contracting authorities.

In addition, we map the sources of budgetary and financial data on each contracting authority. Again, this data is not to be found directly in public tender announcements; instead, we had to map external sources and later attempt a matching strategy (its feasibility to be assessed by Datlab) with contracting authorities.

What can be most credibly expected from financial/budget data is a set of basic categories that greatly vary by country but generally encompass some measure of expenditure and revenue/income plus a few further subdivisions within each.

In order to locate the most informative data and the most fitting to the DoW, the decision was made to locate sources of annual budgetary or financial information that have a first level of disaggregation at the departmental level. This type of disaggregation has different names, such as "administrative", "organic" or "departmental".

Ideally, a second level of disaggregation was looked for, commonly called the "economic classification" of both expenditure and income. This again takes different forms in different countries, but it generally has divisions between wages, operational expenditures, investment, transfers, etc. This largely matches the ambition expressed in the DoW ("total spending, investment spending, total wage bill, average wages, loans, own income").

What comes out of the search is that countries have one of three levels of budget / financial data (this is very general, the actual terminology used is country-specific):

Level 1	Income				Expenditure
Level 2	Current		Capital		Current		Capital
Level 3	Grants	Taxes	Capital transf.	Etc.	Wages	Operating costs	Investments	Transfers, etc.

Any of these three levels is considered good enough for data extraction.

At the same time, it has been assessed that other types of budget / financial classification such as functional (e.g. COFOG policy areas) or by programmes is not suitable for our purposes as they cannot be matched to individual organizations[3].

[3] A helpful orientation on economic budget classification as understood in Government Finance Statistics Manual (GFSM 2001) from the IMF can be found here, particularly under Annex III: https://www.imf.org/external/pubs/ft/tnm/2009/tnm0906.pdf

3. Challenges and shortcomings

3.1. Variables not available

Generally, many of the variables that have been suggested in the data template are not directly or easily available from public budget sources, as the country fiches below reveal. In that sense, the possibilities of capturing exactly what was promised are reduced or would require working with non-publicly available data that is by default non-reproducible.

3.2. Data quality and optimization

It is often the case that multiple sources exist for the same or very similar data. The current mapping lists multiple sources when applicable, but suggests which should be the main sources assessed (non-essential sources are usually listed under "Other potentially relevant links"). These main sources normally include official governmental websites or documents, as well as any potentially machine-readable data.

It is important to note that easy data extraction through machine-readable formats normally comes at the expense of reducing comparability between countries, as what countries choose to publish in machine-readable formats is discretional and has no standards for the type of information we are collecting. There are a number of promising initiatives in this respect but nothing that reaches the depth level we are looking for.

3.3. Comparability between countries

We expect countries' data to vary in (at least) the following aspects:

- Differences in the years of data coverage;
- Different degrees of machine-readable data;
- Differences in the types of documents available. This is relevant for budget/financial data, which can be found in either the Executive Budget Proposal, the Budget Law, the implemented Budget or consolidated financial accounts[4]. We have always preferred actual past realizations/results rather than budget allocations.
- Differences in the conceptual sub-categories that each budget includes, even if the economic classification is broadly followed.

Ultimately none of this is of big concern as long as each conceptual category is matched at the organization level exactly as it appears in the original source (or a suitable translation). For comparative scientific work, some informed choices might be needed further down the line.

[4] A nice guide through the different budget documents can be found in the Open Budget Survey:
http://survey.internationalbudget.org/

3.4. Matching with contracting authorities

Following some previous explanations, the general lack of direct access to public sector information from tender contracts implies that most public sector data will need to be experimentally matched with procurement data on contracting authorities, and ultimately these results will determine how successful the interlinking of the databases will be. At the same time, this is probably the strongest added value DIGHIWHIST is providing regarding public sector information.

3.5. Language

For a large number of countries (as can be observed from the country fiches below), data sources have only been superficially mapped, as I have lacked the resources to go deeper In general and language barriers were often difficult to surmount.

3.6. Data licences

In EU countries, a number of PSI (Public Sector Information) initiatives guarantee that public data is open by default (therefore reusable and republishable). Nevertheless, DIGIWHIST should at least look into the specific data licences if it means to republish public sector information. This is probably particularly important for the non-EU countries covered.

4. Recommended for future action

- To remap the main sources periodically for the countries where data is currently unsatisfactory.
- To develop a clear conceptual map of the type of data to be expected in each country (specific variables depending on which source is preferred by Datlab) and how this data is framed within each country' overall data availability (in other words to give users a sense of how representative it is). This would make sense only after data is parsed, structured, etc.
- To document any failed efforts regarding data extraction or structuring and the technical barriers involved.
- To highlight users and the transparency community in general the relevance of cross-linking this type of data and the importance of our efforts. Perhaps more and better follow-ups can be done beyond DIGIWHIST.
- Most likely it will be necessary to translate back to English the variables that are finally published. This is not a must in my opinion, or at least the local language should be preserved for sure.

In what follows, I describe the summary of data sources found in each country, and sketch some instructions on how to extract it. Based on DATLAB demands, further instructions or annotations may be needed.

6.1. Contracting authorities

We have not located a comprehensive list of contracting authorities in official websites. We contacted Michael Fruhmann from the procurement authority, and received a pdf with a non-comprehensive list of that was uploaded in Trello.

As alternative sources for a list of federal units we found: https://www.help.gv.at/Portal.Node/hlpd/public/content/146/Seite.1460000.html

According to Europam disclosure applies only to MPs and excludes patrimony: "The President of Parliament must keep a public list of disclosures made by MPs, which excludes capital income. Voluntary engagements must be published in the CV of parliamentarians on their homepages."

Data is machine-readable in html and also available in pdf.

6.3. Budget or financial information

6.3.1. Central level

The finance Ministry publishes data on the Austrian budget at the central level: https://www.bmf.gv.at/

The following link has data for each year: https://www.bmf.gv.at/budget/das-budget/das-budget.html

We use the links corresponding to "Budget (year)" and then (for example) "Bundesfinanzgesetz 2014 und Detaildokumente" and then "Detaildokumente". From this link we need all "teilhefte". The direct link is here:
https://service.bmf.gv.at/BUDGET/Budgets/2014_2015/bfg2015/teilhefte/_start_teilhefte.htm

"Teilhefte", correspond to chapters/subdivisions ("Untergliederung"). In some cases, each subdivision coincides with one administrative unit, but in some subdivisions there are more units. For example, for Untergliederung 01 "Präsidentschaftskanzlei", there is only one unit, while for Untergliederung 02 "Bundesgesetzgebung" we have five different units (e.g. Nationalrat, Bundesrat, etc.). Not all are strictly units (although some are) but it's the best disaggregation we have and it is worth extracting what is usable.

For all "teilhefte" we need tables under "I. Bundesvoranschlag Untergliederung…" and

"I.C Detailbudgets Detailbudgets"

The resulting information will be a form of economic classification ("ökonomischen Kriterien") with the following categories (although it may vary in other sources):

Auszahlungen aus der operativen Verwaltungstätigkeit

Auszahlungen aus Personalaufwand

Auszahlungen aus betrieblichem Sachaufwand

Auszahlungen aus Finanzaufwand

Auszahlungen aus Vorräten

Auszahlungen aus sonstigen Rücklagen

Auszahlungen aus Transfers

Auszahlungen aus der Investitionstätigkeit

Auszahlungen aus der Gewährung von Darlehen sowie gewährten Vorschüssen

The equivalent data in structured format is partially available.

In this link, tables 4 to 7 have information of allocations/expenditure between 2009 and 2012 in a less than desired disaggregation level, only by "Untergliederung" and a very basic economic classification: Pers. Ausg. (personnel) and Sachausgaben (operative costs), in turn classified into "Anlagen", "Förderungen" and "Aufwendungen": https://www.bmf.gv.at/budget/das-budget/budgetsichten_tabellen_2012.xlsx?5i7zez

The indirect link is through https://www.bmf.gv.at/budget/das-budget/das-budget.html "Budget 2012" and "Budgetsichten - Tabellen".

Another source of structured data exists is csv format. It has closest disaggregation by organizational unit under "Bezeichnung", but it's only estimated expenditure (Voranschlag) and final expenditure (Aufwendungen). Here DB2 means "Detailbudgets 2. Ebene", which is meant to match the organizational level. http://www.rechnungshof.gv.at/sonderaufgaben/bundesrechnungsabschluss/bundesrechnungsabschluss-2014-voranschlagsvergleichsrechnung-abschlussrechnungen-im-csv-format.html
This is for 2014, but other years may be available here:
http://www.haushaltssteuerung.de/bundeshaushalte.html

Data usually exists for different stages of the budget, with only small differences. The two typical stages are: Erfolg (consolidated accounts) and BVA (Bundesvoranschlag - Budget Law). The preference is always the first, but in some cases the best next is BVA, especially when everything can be scrapped in one go.

Other useful links:

Structured data can be found for personnel costs here in tables 1 and 2
https://www.bmf.gv.at/budget/das-budget/personal_des_bundes_tabellen_2013_2.xlsx?5b0u7m

6.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

Data on autonomous bodies 2015: https://www.bmf.gv.at/budget/das-budget/Ausgliederungen_und_Beteiligungen_des_Bundes_Oktober_2015.pdf?5b0v62

We need "Vermögens- und Ertragskennzahlen" per sub-unit, e.g. p 12 Statistik Österreich

Contains both earnings and expenditure.

For autonomous bodies 2014: https://www.bmf.gv.at/budget/das-budget/Ausgliederungen_und_Beteiligungen_des_Bundes_%28April_2014%29.pdf?4jwmog

We need "Vermögens- und Ertragskennzahlen" per sub-unit, e.g. p 13 Statistik Österreich

Contains both earnings and expenditure.

6.3.3. Subnational level

Accounts and estimates of different states are linked here:

7.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

7.3.1. Central level budget information

Link to the Executive Budget Proposal parts I and II here:

http://www.budgetfederal.be/NL/budgetOnline/AUB%20ini2016-deel%20I.pdf

 http://www.budgetfederal.be/NL/budgetOnline/AUB%20ini2016-deel%20II.pdf

-In part I (first link), for table "II. TABLEAUX ANNEXES A LA LOI" we extract info by administrative unit, but only the final category " TOTAUX POUR LE BUDGET XX" (e.g. "TOTAUX POUR LE BUDGET 01" page 197 for the royal family for example). The result will only be expenditure allocations.

-In part II (second link) as of page 702 we need to extract all categories by unit. It will result in economic classification.

Unfortunately, no equivalent structured data has been found for Belgium.

7.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

The second part of the Budget Law (above) contains information for autonomous entities.

7.3.3. Subnational level budget information

Following Directive 2011/85/EU, this site reports data on expenditure and revenue for Belgian regions and localities. For the latter, however, the information is too aggregated, not useful for our purposes: http://www.budgetfederal.be/NL/figures/EUreports/EU%20Reporting%202011-85%20Belgium.xlsm

This link comes from the following website, which also has the same data in pdf format: http://www.budgetfederal.be/FR/figures/Pages/EUreport.aspx

Similar information in pdf with greater detail of both expenditure and revenue can be found in the Base Documentaire générale: http://www.budgetfederal.be/FR/figures/Pages/databank.aspx

12. Denmark

Priority country: Yes

Language capacity: No

Denmark has only been superficially mapped based on English language information and Google translate. I suggest involving a country expert in case more thorough data extraction is decided.

12.1.   Contracting authorities

No systematic sources have been found in procurement website. The only alternative is the annex of EU Directives.

Directive 2014/24/EU provides a list of contracting authorities at the central level for each country: http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/PDF/?uri=CELEX:32014L0024&from=EN

One example can be found here: http://www.ft.dk/Folketinget/findMedlem/DFPIAD.aspx?tab=4#tab1

12.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

12.3.1. Central level budget information

The Budget Law has different classifications of revenue and expenditure by central unit:

http://www.fm.dk/~/media/publikationer/imported/2014/ffl15/forslag-til-finanslov-for-finansaaret-2015.pdf

As of page 6 we find expenditure and revenue disaggregated by economic classification.

An alternative link to the same information can be found here: https://www.lovtidende.dk/pdf.aspx?id=178976

Machine-readable data for expenditure allocations can be found here, considering that "Ramme" corresponds to economic classification[5]:

https://www.fm.dk/~/media/files/oekonomi-og-tal/budgetlov/afgraensning/afgraensning-hovedkonti-fl16.ashx?la=da

(this link comes from: https://www.fm.dk/oekonomi-og-tal/budgetlov/afgraensning)

Other potentially useful links:

Machine-readable structured statistical data can be found here, but unfortunately no administrative disaggregation:

http://statistikbanken.dk/statbank5a/SelectTable/omrade0.asp?SubjectCode=14&PLanguage=1&ShowNews=OFF

Or, more precise link for our purposes:

http://statistikbanken.dk/statbank5a/SelectVarVal/Define.asp?MainTable=OFF3B&TabStrip=Select&PLanguage=1&FF=20

[5] As explained here: http://www.modst.dk/OEAV/Disponeringsregler-2011/110-Rammesystemet/124-Rammedefinitioner. I have not found, however, which number of "Ramme" corresponds to each category.

12.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

Budget Law (link above) seems to have some data for autonomous units at the central level.

12.3.3. Subnational level budget information

Statistical office has accounts data at the subnational level:
http://statistikbanken.dk/statbank5a/SelectTable/omrade0.asp?SubjectCode=14&PLanguage=1&ShowNews=OFF

For every region or locality it is possible to find at least current and capital expenditure over several years.

13. Estonia

Priority country: No

Language capacity: No

Estonia has only been superficially mapped based on English language information and Google translate. I suggest involving a country expert in case more thorough data extraction is decided.

13.1.   Contracting authorities

There is no comprehensive list of contracting authorities in the procurement website. The website, however, allows to sort announcements by the alphabetical order of contracting authorities ("Hankija"), which represents a somewhat comprehensive way to access such a list, obviously with duplicates:

https://riigihanked.riik.ee/register/HankedOtsing,tableColumnComponent.linkColumn.sdirect?container=contrib%3ASimpleTableColumnPage&sp=AHankedOtsing%2Cresult.tableview&sp=Shankija

13.2.   Public Officials

13.2.1. Central level bureaucracy

The generic source Political Data Yearbook lists ministers for several years back. Other generic sources are:

CIA World Leaders: https://www.cia.gov/library/publications/world-leaders-1/

And Rulers.org

A potential source of deep information for the central level is the official gazette of Estonia:
https://www.riigiteataja.ee/

13.2.2. MPs

Generic websites are:

www.everypolitician.org

and http://parldata.eu/

Alternatively, current composition: http://www.riigikogu.ee/en/parliament-of-estonia/composition/members-riigikogu/

13.2.3. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

No sources found.

13.2.4. Subnational level officials

One generic source exists with some data: https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lists_of_mayors_by_country

13.2.5. Officials' asset declarations

Declarations are not online. According to Europam "The declarations of the officials are disclosed in a register. To access a person needs to identify him/herself and the respective official has a right to information who had access to his/her declaration."

13.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

13.3.1. Central level budget information

According to Open Budget Survey 2015, the 2015 State Budget Act and the explanatory memorandum have information at the organizational level:

http://www.fin.ee/riigieelarve-2015

and

http://www.riigikogu.ee/tegevus/eelnoud/eelnou/6fa672fe-69e3-41e3-83fc-

"The draft state budget provides comprehensive information about the administrative units and the explanatory memorandum provides additional detailed information about the break-down expenditures between the administrative units."

It is likely that some structured data for the central government exists here, but the website is not very functional:

http://riigiraha.fin.ee/geoqlik/proxy/QvAJAXZfc/opendoc.htm?document=Riigiraha.qvw&host=local&anonymous=true/

13.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

The link above has information about autonomous entities at the central level.

13.3.3. Subnational level budget information

Financial data for local governments can be found here, also in English:
http://riigiraha.fin.ee/geoqlik/proxy/QvAJAXZfc/opendoc.htm?document=Riigiraha.qvw&host=local&anonymous=true/

More precisely under "data":
http://riigiraha.fin.ee/geoqlik/proxy/QvAJAXZfc/opendoc.htm?document=Riigiraha.qvw&host=local&anonymous=true/

But we need local knowledge to go further.

Data on municipal debt can be found here, where it says 'Local government accrual base accounting data': http://www.fin.ee/local-government-finances

14. EU institutions

14.2.3. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

All entities are listed in the link above.

14.2.4. Subnational level officials

Not applicable.

14.2.5. Officials' asset declarations

Asset declarations are online only for MEPs and cover only income. According to Europam "The information provided to the President in line with this Article shall be published on Parliament's website in an easily accessible manner."

They can be accessed here by clicking individual names, under tab "declarations":

http://www.europarl.europa.eu/meps/en/full-list.html;jsessionid=532C4AD2CFE0F7F6BDD67E64931A9353.node1

14.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

14.3.1. Central level budget information

The budgets can be found in structured form:

2015 Budget (HTML)

http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/HTML/?uri=OJ:L:2015:069:FULL&from=EN 2014

Budget (XML)

https://data.europa.eu/euodp/en/data/dataset/budget-of-the-european-union-2014

The same information is in pdf format:

http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/PDF/?uri=CELEX:32015B0339&from=EN

Source 1: http://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/PDF/?uri=CELEX:32015B0339&from=EN

We need "STATEMENT OF REVENUE AND EXPENDITURE BY SECTION". By unit there is revenue, expenditure and staff. For revenue we need the total by type of revenue (title level). In expenditure, also title level, although chapter would also be helpful. We should also get the tables on staff (e.g. page 226 for Parliament).

E.g. Parliament:

1- PERSONS WORKING WITH THE INSTITUTION; 2- NGS, FURNITURE, EQUIPMENT AND MISCELLANEOUS OPERATING EXPENDITURE; 3 EXPENDITURE RESULTING FROM GENERAL FUNCTIONS CARRIED OUT BY THE INSTITUTION; 4 EXPENDITURE RESULTING FROM SPECIAL FUNCTIONS CARRIED OUT BY THE INSTITUTION; (NOTE GAP) 10 - OTHER EXPENDITURE.

Under tab "Sidonnaisuudet" (FI) or "Bindningar" (SW). According to Europam "The Central Office maintains a register of personal interests declared by the Representatives. The information is public and made accessible to the public on a public information network. Once a person no longer holds office as a Representative, the information is removed from the register and the information network."

15.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

15.3.1. Central level budget information

The following link has structured information on appropriations divided by ministries for the draft budget, but it requires deeper mapping to understand the lowest organizational level that can be reached: http://budjetti.vm.fi/indox/tae/frame_year.jsp?year=2016&lang=fi

16.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

16.3.1. Central level budget information

Expenditure ceilings by ministry can be obtained from the PLF 2016 table (in pdf format) of the p. 223:

http://www.performance-publique.budget.gouv.fr/sites/performance_publique/files/farandole/ressources/2016/pap/pdf/PLF2016.pdf

Similar for previous years can be found as follows:

 PLF 2013 annex 6 p. 251:

http://www.performance-publique.budget.gouv.fr/documents-budgetaires/lois-projets-lois-documents-annexes-annee/exercice-2016/projet-loi-finances-2016#.VwJqhvl9673

Structured data on budget allocations seems to be available in csv format for 2014 in https://www.data.gouv.fr/fr/datasets/budget-de-letat-exercice-2014/

Organizational units are not main classification, but they can be found under "Centre financier (CF)" where last 4 characters codify operational units (organizations). A name for the organization is under "Libellé CF", although not always fully understandable.

Centre financier is explained in French as "cet axe représente les programmes / budgets opérationnels de programme / unités opérationnelles (PROG/BOP/UO)" le nom d'un centre financier est normé : PPPP-BBBB-UUUU BBBB = code du BOP sur 4 caractères (ex AIXM). Le nommage des BOP est du choix des ministères de rattachement de ce programme UUUU = code de l'UO sur 4 caractères (ex IA13). Le nommage des UO est du choix des ministères de rattachement de ce programme."

Nomenclature for 2016 can be found here, but unfortunately further technical knowledge is required: http://www4.minefi.gouv.fr/budget/plf2016/Blancs2016/NEBLANC_ETA1.htm

16.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

I have not found data for autonomous units.

Equivalent excel data can be found here: http://www.insee.fr/fr/themes/theme.asp?theme=8&sous_theme=3&nivgeo=99&type=2&produit=OK

I have not found a systematic source, however, for municipalities.

18.2.5. Officials' asset declarations

Asset declarations data can be found in each individual MP website MPs' websites in html format under "Veröffentlichungspflichtige Angaben". An example here:
https://www.bundestag.de/bundestag/abgeordnete18/biografien/A/albani_stephan/258132

18.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

18.3.1. Central level budget information

The Executive Budget Proposal for 2015, entitled "Entwurf eines Gesetzes ueber die Feststellung des Bundeshaushaltsplans fuer das Haushaltsjahr 2015 (Haushaltsgesetz 2015), Gesetzesentwurf der Bundesregierung" presents expenditures for a ministry or its subordinate units and minor agencies in detail. This can be found in the pdf document:
http://dip21.bundestag.de/dip21/btd/18/020/1802000.pdf

As of page 5 (127 of pdf) we have a disaggregation by economic function and unit (e.g. Bundespräsident 0401). We only need the summery table "Überblick zum Kapitel" (so table on page 5 and not the info on page 6, page 13, not 14 etc.). Per Kapitel (4 ciphers) we should have a summery table. Sometimes the summery keyword is "Abschluss des Kapitels".

Equivalent structured data exists in the open data portal for 2015:

https://www.govdata.de/daten/-/details/bundeshaushalt-2015

What seems to be economic disaggregation is called "ökonomischen Arten" and includes: 1- Personalausgaben (personnel); 2- Laufender Sachaufwand (current expenditure); 3- Zinsausgaben (interests) and 4- Laufende Zuweisungen und Zuschüsse (current transfers and subsidies). These are further disaggregated.

18.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

The links above also contain information on autonomous entities.

18.3.3. Subnational level budget information

The best source so far is http://offenerhaushalt.de/

Which contains data on expenditure and revenue for states and municipalities, although it is non-comprehensive.

In most of the referring links the raw data can be accessed. The years of data available differ by city or state.

Other potentially relevant links are:

http://www.bundesfinanzministerium.de/Web/DE/Themen/Oeffentliche_Finanzen/Foederale_Finanzbeziehungen/Laenderhaushalte/laenderhaushalte.html

http://www.bundesfinanzministerium.de/Web/DE/Themen/Oeffentliche_Finanzen/Foederale_Finanzbeziehungen/Kommunalfinanzen/kommunalfinanzen.html

But it is difficult to find anything structured, and the little I found is too aggregated (aggregate municipal accounts by Land).

And

https://openspending.org/datasets?territories=DE

But the latter does not lead to links that are always similarly structured.

Hungary has only been superficially mapped based on English language information and Google translate. However, we have promised to migrate existing data for Czech Republic, so I believe this requires GTI's input.

20.1.   Contracting authorities

By clicking "szures" (filter) there is a list of results, but in order to gather comprehensive information one has to then select different options from the drop-down menus at the very bottom:

And Rulers.org

Also, I understand a comprehensive list of authorities can be found in the Treasury website: http://www.allamkincstar.gov.hu/hu/ext/torzskonyv

It needs, however, some kind of search criteria to get results.

22.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

22.3.1. Central level budget information

Part II of the Irish Expenditure Report lists departmental expenditure ceilings on page 22 (current expenditure) and page 24 (capital expenditure):

http://budget.gov.ie/Budgets/2014/Documents/Part%20II%20-%20Expenditure%20Allocations%202014%20-%202016.pdf

In part IV of the Irish Expenditure Report we can find somewhat more interesting details by unit (units are state sectors more than clear cut organizations) as of page 126 (29 of pdf) with operational expenditure such as wages, travel, consultancies, etc.

http://www.budget.gov.ie/Budgets/2014/Documents/Part%20IV%20-%20Estimates%20for%20Public%20Services%202014.pdf

Excellent structured data disaggregated at all levels can be downloaded from the Ministry of Finance, under Open Data: http://databank.per.gov.ie/Expenditure.aspx?rep=OpenData

In this data, department levels 1 and 2 would be the precise organizational units and Expenditure level 1 would be the most informative (current and capital). Unfortunately more detailed data does not exist in the structured source.

22.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

Budget documents and structured data contain autonomous entities at the national level.

22.3.3. Subnational level budget information

In the following pdf:

http://www.housing.gov.ie/sites/default/files/publications/files/local_authority_budget_publication_2016.pdf

On page 18 "REVENUE EXPENDITURE AND INCOME AND ANNUAL RATE ON VALUATION FOR GENERAL CHARGES FOR 2016" has a number of expenditure and income variables for local governments for 2016.

And as of page 24, very nice classification of income and expenditure by programme.

According to Europam asset declarations are obligatory for MPs and ministers "For ministers and MPs "Declarations are published in an official bulletin, which is accessible to all citizens registered on the electoral roll for the election of the Chamber of Deputies."

23.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

23.3.1. Central level budget information

From Italy's budget proposal we can extract "A) QUADRO GENERALE RIASSUNTIVO DEL BILANCIO DI COMPETENZA TRIENNALE 2014 – 2016" p. 74 of the pdf, which has expenditure by ministry, current and capital, and further disaggregation.

http://www.rgs.mef.gov.it/_Documenti/VERSIONE-I/Attivit--i/Bilancio_di_previsione/Bilancio_finanziario/2014/DisegnodiBilancio/Disegno_di_legge_DLB_2014-2016.pdf

There is also a disaggregation by unit, programme and function as of page 139 until the end, but this disaggregation is less informative.

Economic aggregation involves: Costi propri (current), Costi dislocati (Trasferimenti) (transfers), Oneri finanziari (intrests/financial), Fondi da assegnare (emergency funds).

Explanation in EBP page 31: http://www.rgs.mef.gov.it/_Documenti/VERSIONE-I/Attivit--i/Bilancio_di_previsione/Bilancio_finanziario/2014/DisegnodiBilancio/Disegno_di_legge_DLB_2014-2016.pdf

Also, there is data on public wages in "Tavola D".

Treasury structured data in csv format is available at: http://www.bdap.tesoro.it/Pagine/OpenBDAP_DPCM_0000_20140922_003_000_00_00.aspx

Under "Legge di Bilancio" we have data for the last 2 years. This is the best structured link. The codebook is very clear as well ("metadati Spese").

In these csv files the two departamental levels that matter are "Descrizione Amministrazione" and "Descrizione Centro di ResponsabilitÃ", and regarding the type of expenditure we need "Descrizione Titolo Spese"; "Codice Categoria Spese" and "Descrizione Categoria Spese".

23.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

No systematic sources were found.

23.3.3. Subnational level budget information

Regional budgets in badly structured pdfs under "bilanci delle regioni in sintesi" (2009-2013), with very nice and clear economic categories for allocations, expenditure and income in tables 1, 3, 5 and 6:

http://www.mef.gov.it/ministero/commissioni/copaff/

For the year 2013, machine-readable data is available here, here, under "tavolas.zip". In the same link there is metadata, explanations, etc.:

No systematic source was found.

26.2.4. Subnational level officials

Relevant information can be found in the links of this page: In links: http://www.syvicol.lu/annuaire-des-communes/

Some data can be found in the generic source:
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lists_of_mayors_by_country

26.2.5. Officials' asset declarations

Declarations of conflict of interest are available but they are not machine readable pdfs. According to Europam "The information provided in the declarations is presented on the homepage of the Chamber of Deputies in an "easily accessible" form."

These declarations can be accessed, an example here:
http://www.chd.lu/wps/PA_eXtendedInfos/3818.pdf?objectId=3818

26.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

26.3.1. Central level budget information

In the Executive Budget Proposal 2016 it is possible to find expenditure by ministry subdivided by current and capital: http://www.budget.public.lu/lu/budget2016/links-dokumenter/dokumenter/budget-2016-vol1-projet-budget-2016/minfinances_vol1de-budget-2016.pdf

We need "Budget des dépenses", which is organized by ministry and sub-units (called sections, which will not always match organizations exactly), and where current expenditure start on page 35 and capital expenditure starts on page 419.

Revenues can be collected in a similar way.

Equivalent structured data exists:

http://www.budget.public.lu/lu/budget2016/links-dokumenter/dokumenter/de-budget-2016/pb2016prsiteinternet.xlsx

http://www.budget.public.lu/lu/budget2015/links-dokumenter/dokumenter/budget-open-data/recettes-et-depenses-au-10-octobre-2014-1.xls

Other useful links:

http://www.budget.public.lu/lu/budget2016/am-detail/index.php

The website has expenditure by ministry, but further disaggregation is functional.

26.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

Previous links include autonomous agencies at the central level.

26.3.3. Subnational level budget information

No sources found, although most likely all relevant data is in central budget.

27. Malta

Priority country: No

Malta's public sector data has been mapped as thoroughly as possible.

27.1. Contracting authorities

It is possible to get a comprehensive list of contracting authorities by clicking on several of the official gazette issues:

Alternatively, some data exists in the generic source:

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List_of_mayors_of_places_in_Malta

27.2.5. Officials' asset declarations

There seems not to be a centralized registry, but data is released each year in paper format, not machine-readable. For 2014/2015:

http://www.maltatoday.com.mt/ui/files/Ministers%20Declarations%202014-2015.pdf

27.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

27.3.1. Central level budget information

It is possible to find budget data back to 2005 broken down by department and unit under the 'Financial Estimates' document. This is actually a zip file with many small, specific budget documents for each department rather than everything in one document: http://mfin.gov.mt/en/The-Budget/Pages/The-Budget-2015.aspx

Per unit we have a number of documents, where usually the one called "financial abstract" has a summary of revenue and expenditure, expenditure is subdivided by current and capital, and current is in turn subdivided by economic disaggregation.

The documents "recurrent" and "capital" have more details on expenditure, personal and operational emoluments.

27.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

Some autonomous agencies seem to be covered by the previous link, but it does not seem comprehensive.

27.3.3. Subnational level budget information

No sources found.

28.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

28.3.1. Central level budget information

From this link to the Executive Budget Proposal:
https://www.rijksoverheid.nl/onderwerpen/prinsjesdag/inhoud/miljoenennota-rijksbegroting-en-troonrede/prinsjesdagstukken

We need the document Internetbijlagen bij Miljoenennota 2016 (PDF, 3.5 MB)

We take the tables from "9. Horizontale toelichting" which report revenues and expenditures by units (begrotingen) and sub-units (articles). In the 2016 document these tables start on page 4. Further disaggregations are not very helpful, so revenue ("Ontvangsten") and expenditure ("Uitgaven") are enough.

The articles will not always exactly match organizations, so this is purely an approximate strategy.

Structured equivalent data exists in this link under "dataset 1", "Bijlage 9:Horizontale toelichting bij MJN 2016", http://opendata.rijksbegroting.nl/#dataset_1

General allocations for previous years exist as well, for example "Rijksrekening Uitgaven en Ontvangsten 2015".

Somewhat more disaggregated information on expenditures by unit exists under
https://www.rijksoverheid.nl/onderwerpen/prinsjesdag/inhoud/miljoenennota-rijksbegroting-en-troonrede/prinsjesdagstukken and the links to each administrative unit "Begrotingen 2016", for example:

https://www.rijksoverheid.nl/binaries/rijksoverheid/documenten/begrotingen/2015/09/15/i-de-koning-rijksbegroting-2016/i-de-koning-rijksbegroting-2016.pdf

Material and personnel costs can be extracted, but there is no equivalent structured data, and in itself it is not so informative.

28.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

Autonomous agencies at the central level are included in the links above.

28.3.3. Subnational level budget information

In this link, one can extract very nicely structured and machine-readable data on all Dutch municipalities for expenditure, revenue, debt and many socio-economic categories:

31.3.1. Central level budget information

From the Financial Accounts document http://www.dgo.pt/politicaorcamental/ContaGeraldoEstado/2014/CGE_2014_vol1tomo03.pdf

We need Map II, expenditures, organic classification.

Here under "DESIGNAÇÃO ORGÂNICA" the first aggregation (e.g. 01) corresponds to ministries and further disaggregation into "capítulos" will match sub-units in a few cases, although it's functional classification.

Map V, revenues autonomous bodies. Information is structured in ministries, and here "capítulos" will match organizations.

Map VII, expenses autonomous bodies, idem as in Map V.

Beyond expenditure there is no further disaggregation.

Same information from the Executive Budget Proposal can be found in separate annexes (example for 2014, although it is the same for all necessary years:

36.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

36.3.1. Central level budget information

The budget document called "Serie Roja, resumen de ingresos y gastos" has revenue ("ingresos") and expenditure ("gastos") by unit and by economic classification ("capítulos" are the categories of economic classification):

http://www.sepg.pap.minhap.gob.es/Presup/PGE2014Ley/MaestroTomos/PGE-ROM/doc/L_14_E_R1.PDF

Alternatively, a summery only for expenditure can be found here:
http://www.sepg.pap.minhap.gob.es/Presup/PGE2014Proyecto/MaestroDocumentos/PGE-ROM/N_14_A_A_2_1_3_101_1_1_2.htm

http://www.sepg.pap.minhap.gob.es/Presup/PGE2014proyecto/MaestroTomos/PGE-ROM/doc/L_14_A_A3.PDF

The resulting "capítulos" (economic classification) are:

Current expenditure:

Capítulo 1: "Gastos de personal"

Capítulo 2: "Gastos en bienes corrientes y de servicios"

Capítulo 3: "Gastos financieros"

Capítulo 4: "Transferencias corrientes"

*Capítulo 5: "Fondo de Contingencia presupuestaria" artículo 15 de la Ley General de Estabilidad Presupuestaria

En los gastos de capital:

* Capítulo 6: "Inversiones reales"

  * Capítulo 7: "Transferencias de capital"

 En las operaciones financieras:

  * Capítulo 9: "Pasivos financieros"

The result is an excel file with data for each "ayuntamiento" (municipality). "Tabla 1" is all that is necessary, with data on income ("ingresos") and expenditure ("gastos"). Each of the subdivisions are important and respond to economic classification, and should therefor all be collected.

There is excellent data in the other tables ("Tabla 2, etc.").

37.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

37.3.1. Central level budget information

According to OBI 2015 the budget does not have a direct disaggregation by department or unit, see questionnaire, Section 2, question 001:

http://www.internationalbudget.org/wp-content/uploads/OBS2015-Questionnaire-Sweden.pdf

Yet, it seems that Annex 1 of the Budget Law has budget allocated to units that will sometimes match contracting authorities:

37.3.3. Subnational level budget information

Excellent data for municipalities and county councils between 1998 and 2015 can be found in English in the following site:

http://www.scb.se/en_/Finding-statistics/Statistics-by-subject-area/Public-finances/Local-Government-finances/Annual-accounts-for-municipalities-and-county-councils/

The extraction of the data in excel (and others) may need several steps as it seems to be limited by the search criteria.

There is a big amount of data here, and it is quite subjective what to choose.

The most meaningful tables are:

For municipalities:

Under "Data from income statement and balance sheet for municipalities" tables"

1) "Local government incomes by region and account record. Year 2011 – 2015"

Which will give details about sources of income with a subdivision that resembles economic classification.

2) "Municipalities costs by region and account record. Year 2011 – 2015"

For relevant data on expenditures with a subdivision that resembles economic classification.

For county councils:

1) "The county councils´revenue by region and account record. Year 2007 – 2015"

For revenue data

2) "The county councils costs by region and account record. Year 2007 – 2015"

38.3.   Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

38.3.1. Central level budget information

From financial accounts documents ("Comptes d'Etat 2006–2014"), it is possible to extract information by administrative unit and economic disaggregation under section 2 B, until 2014:

https://www.efv.admin.ch/dam/efv/fr/dokumente/finanzberichterstattung/rechnung/2014/Band%202A%20Verwaltungseinheiten%20Zahlen%20R2014.pdf.download.pdf/RG14_Band2A_f.pdf

Previous links include autonomous entities as well.

38.3.3. Subnational level budget information

I have not been able to find one consolidated source of data for all kantons / municipalities, neither in pdf nor in excel.

Other potentially useful links:

At this link, select 'Öffentliche Verwaltung und Finanzen' under 'Themen' and 'Kantonalämter und -institutionen' under 'Institution' - there are a lot of files called 'Gemeindefinanzen' or 'Gemeindefinanzstatistik' that seem to be published by the cantons but do encompass a lot of municipal statistics. But data for each kanton needs to be collected separately, so this avenue is not very promising.

39.3. Budget / financial information of contracting authorities

Source 1:

Budget 2015 document: https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/293759/37630_Budget_2014_Web_Accessible.pdf

-Table 2.4 has departmental expenditure limits.

Yet a more detailed source is the Main Supply Estimates document: https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/306926/main_supply_estimates_2014_2015_web.pdf

-Table 2 of this document has summery of expenditure ceiling categorized by resource and capital, which is basically equivalent to current and capital classification.

Department do not fully match individual organizations, although they do for autonomous or semi-autonomous entities (called "Arm's Lengh Bodies" and "Executive Agencies"):

"An appropriation for a department usually covers several administrative units. For instance, the funds under the departmental expenditure limit (DEL) of the Department for Education in the Supply and Appropriation (Main Estimates) Act 2013 cover "both the Department itself, its Executive Agencies and Arms Length Bodies (ALBs), the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service, the Children's Commissioner and expenditure associated with Academy activities" (p. 7 of the Main Supply Estimates document). Departments can fire funds within a budgetary limit, which may cover several administrative units. However, virement cannot take place between voted budgetary limits, e.g. from the Department for Education to the Ministry of Defence or vice versa, without parliamentary approval."

Data in html can be found in Table 2.4 of the Budget document, with a division between resource and capital. It is not as detailed as the Main Supply Estimates document, since it is only a division by ministry and nothing further:

https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/budget-2016-documents/budget-2016

Alternatively, although less detailed, the PESA excel tables contain multi-year analyses. Table 1.10 has Total Departmental Expenditure Limits (1), 2009-10 to 2015-16, which is consolidated data equivalent to the previous pdfs.

https://www.gov.uk/government/statistics/public-expenditure-statistical-analyses-2014

Chapter 1, total departmental expenditure limits.

https://www.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/339723/PESA_2014_CM_Chapter_1_tables.xlsx

Interestingly, Chapter 3 of PESA provides changes in departmental units, this can be useful for transparency.

Data on Public corporations is in PESA Chapter 8.

Table 8.5 is informative of public corporation expenditure by economic category (quite incomplete, though).

Explanatory link on UK budget: https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/how-to-understand-public-sector-spending/how-to-understand-public-sector-spending

A very ambitious endeavour would be to collect annual data from OSCAR here, which contains detailed reporting of expenditure by organizations by quarters:

https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/oscar-annual-release-november-2015

However this data is too disaggregated, it would require aggregating it by quarter and department (and I only see data for earlier years).

39.3.2. Autonomous or semi-autonomous state units

Main Supply Estimates document also contains information on autonomous entities.

39.3.3. Subnational level budget information

Data only for regions.

There is some complexity involved in local government finance data for England, because the first classification is not between expenditure and income, but between current and capital accounts, where expenditure and income are later classified within each. Moreover, it has been difficult to find relevant data for capital accounts.

There are three main categories of spending: current expenditure (normal operating costs such as employees, maintenance, etc.), net current expenditure which is expenditure minus the income coming from sales, fees, etc. (so agency-related income, not gov transfers). So most tables on current and net current expenditure include a division between "income" and "expenditure" that might be confusing. And there is a third category: revenue account spending, equivalent to current expenditure + capital financing costs. Also, the financial year goes from April to March instead of a calendar year.

For England, under this link:

Data for chapters 2 (income), 3 (expenditure) and 4 (capital account) are relevant.

Scotland:

Scotland's financial data is structured similarly to England.

Data for individual local governments are in the different tabs.

Wales:

Local Govt Revenue Expenditure: https://statswales.gov.wales/Catalogue/Local-Government/Finance/Revenue/Budgets/budgetedrevenueexpenditure-by-authority-service

Under authority → Total Wales → Total Unitary Authorities we get data on each city.

Gross Government Expenditure is the only relevant category I see, although further disaggregation by policy area may be of interest as well.

There are Open Data formats in the links at the bottom.

Data is available only as of the 2014-15 period.

This is a nice mapping of which kind of budget data is available in the uk:

I have explored other options (like OpenlyLocal in Github and PESA tables on local finances, but for different reasons I didn't find them suitable. Github is old data, and PESA is aggregated data only.)
